“When exposing a crime is treated as committing a crime, you are being ruled by criminals.”

-Edward Snowden

“In a room where people unanimously maintain a conspiracy of silence one word of truth sounds like a pistol shot”

- Czeslaw Milosz

White collar crimes are economically motivated, non-violent crimes committed by political delegates or business magus. White collared criminals are on the rise because of various reasons like globalization, deterioration of moral values, booming scientific know-how and so on. These white collared criminals are being protected by hotshots and are bolstered by the top brass indirectly. They comprise of business tycoons, politicians, bureaucrats, professionals and so on. They are hypocrites. There needs to be an acknowledgment of the expeditious white collared crimes which is spreading in pronto in every sphere of the society-be it the political, the social, the cultural and the economic spheres. Indian Government has been introducing various regulatory legislations to prevent white-collar criminality.
